HIMACHAL PRADESH UNIVERSITY NATIONAL MOOT COURT COMPETITION 2026

MOOT PROPOSITION

1. Republic of Dravida, the world's largest democracy, embarked on a historic nation building journey after gaining independence from British colonial rule in 1947. The transition to democracy marked a new era in Dravidian history, characterized by social, political, and economic transformations.
2. The framers of Dravidian Constitution meticulously crafted a visionary document that enshrined democratic principles and ideals adopted on January 26, 1950, and established Dravida as a sovereign, socialist, secular, and democratic republic. It provided a framework for governance that safeguarded fundamental rights, enshrined the principles of equality and justice, and outlined the separation of powers among the executive, legislative, and judicial branches.
3. The Founding Fathers of the Constitution laid a federal structure as a foundation to integrate Dravida as a united Dravida. Besides many provisions under the Constitution there is a provision under article 368 to amend the Dravidian Constitution. In exercise of the said powers under article 368, Dravidian Parliament has given effect to many constitutional amendments to meet out the changing needs, requirements and aspiration of the dynamic Dravidian society. Many times the constitutional amendments have been challenged under Article 32/226 before the Supreme Court and High Courts in Dravida on the ground of violating the Fundamental Rights/Constitutional rights enshrined under the Constitution.
4. Women have been an integral part of Dravidian culture and society since ancient times. The status of women in Dravida has been subject to many changes over the span of recorded Dravidian history. Their position in society deteriorated with the passage of time. Dravida was invaded by many invaders in the past and has witnessed many rulers of different religion which added to the misery of the women of Dravida and deteriorated their status.
5. The Dravidian Parliament for the empowerment of women passed the 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments in 1993, which introduced panchayats and municipalities in the Constitution, providing reservation of one-third of seats for women in these bodies. The Constitution also provides for reservation of seats in Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies for Scheduled Castes (SCs) and Scheduled Tribes (STs) in proportion to their number in the population. The Constitution does not provide for reservation of seats for women in the Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies. In 2015, the Report on the Status of Women in Dravida noted that the representation of women in State Legislative Assemblies and Parliament continues to be dismal.

Bills amending the Constitution to reserve seats for women in Parliament and State Legislative Assemblies have been introduced in 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2008. The first three Bills lapsed with dissolution of their respective Lok Sabha. The 2008 Bill was introduced in and passed by Rajya Sabha but it also lapsed with the dissolution of the 15th Lok Sabha.

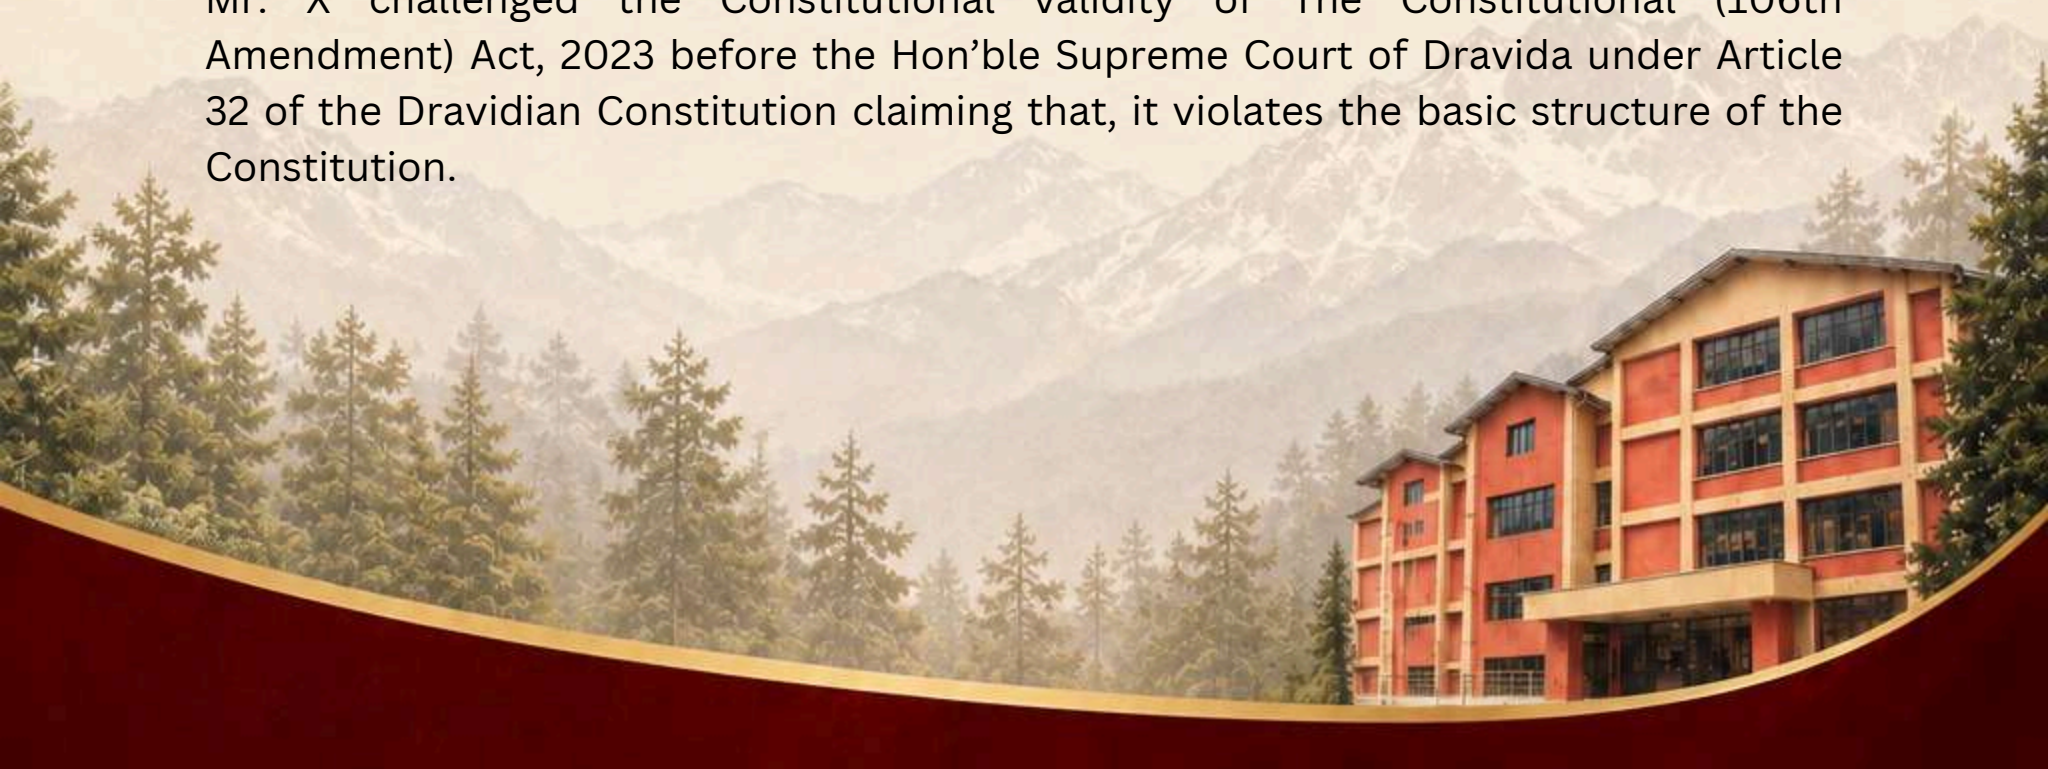

6. The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Eighth Amendment) Bill, 2023 was introduced in Lok Sabha on September 19, 2023. The Bill seeks to reserve one-third of the total number of seats in Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies for women. Both Houses of the Parliament passed the 128th Constitutional Amendment Bill to provide 1/3 reservation of the total number of seats in Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies for women on 20th September, 2023 by Lok Sabha and on 21st September, 2023 by Rajya Sabha and assented to on 28th September, 2023 and published for public information in the Gazette of Dravida on 28th September, 2023 as The Constitution (One Hundred and Sixth Amendment) Act, 2023.

7. Key features of the Act

- Reservation for women: The Act reserves, as nearly as may be, one-third of all seats for women in Lok Sabha, State Legislative Assemblies and the Legislative Assembly of the National Capital Territory of Siribad. This will also apply to the seats reserved for SCs and STs in Lok Sabha and States Legislatures.
- Commencement of reservation: The reservation will be effective after the census conducted after the commencement of this Act has been published. Based on the census, delimitation will be undertaken to reserve seats for women. The reservation will be provided for a period of 15 years. However, it shall continue till such date as determined by a law made by Parliament.
- Rotation of seats: Seats reserved for women will be rotated after each delimitation, as determined by a law made by Parliament.

8. The Central Government of Dravida by way of notification in the Official Gazette notified that The Constitution (One Hundred and Sixth Amendment) Act, 2023 will come into force from 1st January, 2024. But, the present factual situation is that the Central Government of Dravida in pursuance of this Act has not taken any constructive measures for fresh census which is due since 2021 and delimitation thereafter.

Mr. X challenged the Constitutional validity of The Constitutional (106th Amendment) Act, 2023 before the Hon'ble Supreme Court of Dravida under Article 32 of the Dravidian Constitution claiming that, it violates the basic structure of the Constitution.

ISSUES

1. Whether reservation of seats for women only in Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies and not in Rajya Sabha and State Legislative Councils is against the principle of equality?
2. Whether the “Post Census” and “Post Delimitation” conditions under the Act are unconstitutional?
3. Does the exclusion of specific quota for other backward classes (OBC) women – while including SC/ST quotas – violate equality principles and social justice?
4. Whether the mandatory rotation of seats after every delimitation exercise is arbitrary and violates the rights of the women candidates to develop their constituencies?

NOTE: -

1. The Constitution and all the other laws of Dravida are parametria to the Constitution of India and other statutes enforced within the territory of India.
2. The participants are allowed to use any relevant statutory laws and case laws of India in their submissions.
3. All the characters, events, and names mentioned in the Moot Problem are not real and are created only for academic purposes. Any resemblance to real-life events or persons, living or dead, is unintentional.
