ABOUT THE ASSAM ROYAL GLOBAL UNIVERSITY

The Assam Royal Global University (RGU), located in Guwahati, Assam, is a modern and forward-looking private university that prides itself on offering a globally integrated education rooted in regional relevance. Established by the Assam Royal Global University Act of 2013, the campus is strategically situated in Betkuchi on National Highway 37, just 22 km from LGBI Airport and well-connected by road and rail, making it accessible while also offering a serene, green environment.

At RGU, education goes beyond traditional boundaries. The university is organized into 23 schools that span a broad spectrum of disciplines, including engineering, management, design, humanities, life sciences, law, and fine arts. This multidisciplinary structure encourages students to think critically, creatively, and collaboratively, while the flexible academic framework — aligned with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, allows for a well-rounded learning experience through core courses, electives, and minors.

RGU is deeply committed to nurturing global citizens. Its vision is to “offer nationally and internationally integrated opportunities to create global citizens,” and its mission emphasizes academic excellence through research-intensive, industry-oriented education, along with community service and ethical leadership. The university promotes holistic student development, combining rigorous academics with value-based education, internships, fieldwork, and co-curricular activities.

Research is an integral part of RGU’s identity. With numerous disciplines covered in its various schools, the university fosters innovation and interdisciplinary inquiry. Its strategic plan highlights strong industry linkages, MoUs, and a drive for collaborative research as key pillars of its future growth.

Student life at RGU is vibrant and inclusive. The campus offers modern infrastructure: centrally air-conditioned buildings, smart classrooms, more than 90 high-tech laboratories, auditoriums, moot courts, and more. To support wellbeing, there are separate hostels for men and women, a well-equipped gymnasium, and both outdoor and indoor sports facilities.

Importantly, RGU takes sustainability and accessibility seriously. Its campus design includes eco-friendly practices such as rainwater harvesting, accessible infrastructure for persons with disabilities, and a commitment to environmental stewardship.

In essence, RGU is not just a university, it is a hub of innovation, a home for holistic learning, and a launchpad for future leaders. By blending academic rigor, real-world relevance, and social consciousness, RGU prepares students to face global challenges while contributing meaningfully to their communities.

ABOUT ROYAL SCHOOL OF LAW AND ADMINISTRATION

The Royal School of Law & Administration (RSLA) is RGU's dedicated school for legal studies and public administration, committed to cultivating skilled legal professionals and responsible leaders. It offers a variety of programs tailored to different levels of study, including a 5-year integrated BA/BBA LLB (Hons), a 3-year LLB (Hons), and a 1-year LLM in both day-shift and morning-shift formats.

Under the leadership of Prof. (Dr.) Souvik Chatterji, Dean of RSLA and Prof. (Dr.) Bhavana Sharma, Head of RSLA, the school draws on deep academic and research expertise.

RSLA not only emphasizes rigorous classroom learning but also fosters a rich research environment. Its research thrust areas include constitutional law, environmental law, administrative law, IPR, international law, human rights and gender, and criminal law. The school supports PhD students working on cutting-edge legal topics, for example, doctoral research has covered subjects like workplace sexual harassment and right-to-education among marginalized communities.

Students at RSLA benefit from robust academic resources. The school has its own departmental library, ensuring convenient access to books, journals, and other learning materials specific to law and administration. Meanwhile, the wider RGU E-Library supports all students with 18,000+ e-books and more than 65,000 e-journals, making research and study deeply supported.

RSLA's programs are designed with flexibility in mind. The LLM program, for example, offers both a day-shift and a morning-shift option to accommodate diverse student needs. Admission to these programs is based on academic credentials, and there are processes for scholarships too.

Overall, the Royal School of Law & Administration at RGU combines strong academic leadership, meaningful research opportunities, comprehensive legal education, and student-centric infrastructure, making it a compelling choice for aspiring lawyers and administrators.

ABOUT ROYAL MOOT COURT SOCIETY

The Royal Moot Court Society (RMCS) at Assam Royal Global University is a student-driven academic initiative dedicated to nurturing advocacy excellence, research aptitude, and ethical legal practice. Rooted in the University's vision of academic rigor, global competence, and holistic development, RMCS serves as a dynamic platform where aspiring legal professionals transform into confident advocates, leaders, and changemakers.

RMCS fosters a culture of critical thinking, courtroom discipline, and collaborative learning, offering students structured opportunities to refine their legal research, drafting, and oral advocacy skills. Through intra-university competitions, memorial drafting exercises, debate forums, and simulated courtrooms, the Society works toward building strong internal capacity and identifying talent for national and international representation.

Beyond competitions, RMCS embraces professional ethics and experiential learning, collaborating with law firms, alumni, and industry experts to provide mentorship and real-world exposure. The Society also champions innovation by integrating AI-assisted legal research, interdisciplinary problem statements, and skill-development workshops in emerging domains like arbitration and mediation.

With a commitment to leadership and community engagement, RMCS encourages students from all programs—BA LL.B, BBA LL.B, LL.B, and LL.M—to participate, lead, mentor, and contribute to socially relevant initiatives such as street moots and legal awareness drives.

Through its signature events, including the 38th Bar Council of India National All India Inter University Moot Court Competition, 2026 the Society aims to position Assam Royal Global University as a vibrant hub for academic discourse, advocacy training, and legal excellence in the Northeast and beyond.
